TELEGRAMS TO STANDARD.

By direct cables via Lisbon.

Rome, 4th—The Vatican is greatly displeased at the election of Father Martino as General of the Jesuits, where a Frenchman would have been preferred.

Justice is, however, done to Father Martino as a theologian and polyglotist, with great energy and force of character.

London, 4th.—The poet Tennyson is dangerously ill with influenza and gout.

Paris, 4th—Renan's funeral will take place on Friday.

Berlin, 4th—An ovation is being prepared here for the first Austrian officers who arrive here from Vienna; and the same will be offered in Vienna to the first German officers who reach that city. The betting is about even.

London, 4th.—A case of cholera has occurred on board a vessel at Gravesend.

Paris, 4th—Cholera is declining here and at Havre. At Hamburg there is also a decline.

London, 4th—The issue of the Turkish Loan for £6,000,000 is meeting with great difficulties and is doubtful.

Germany and England oppose it secretly, to force Turkey to reveal her future attitude towards the Western Powers.

Barcelona, 4th—The Columbus Fetes have commenced with a Congress of Professors and mercantile experts, and a show of machinery in the Argricultural Palace.

(Per Havas Agency.)

New York, 3rd.—It is said that Germany is trying to induce the Santo Domingo Republic to annul its reciprocity treaty with the United States.

LIFE AND PROPERTY.

The present condition of lawlessness which prevails in the Argentine Republic is so lamentable that we hope the incoming President will make some effort for improvement. We can remember more than thirty years, and at no period was there less protection for life and property than at present. Freebooters and assassins ride roughshod from one end to the other of the republic, robbing and murdering the honest settlers with entire impunity. We published yesterday the details of a shocking murder at Las Rosas by a well-known malefactor named Pereyra, who had previously committed two other murders. At the same time we have news of a daring outrage by the local authorities at Bolivar, in this province, which is likely to provoke the German and Italian Governments, whose subjects have been attacked in their little homes and farms.

Not long since a Justice of the Peace in Santa Fe shot dead an Italian who was riding by the Juzgado, and who had been married the same morning. Outrages of this kind may occur in any country, but the assassin is invariably punished, except here. The consequence is that we see an alarming increase of crime, which must sooner or later lead to Lynch law, unless Pres. Saenz Peña adopt a very vigorous line of action.

Bushrangers in Australia gave some trouble for a number of years, but were ultimately exterminated. The same occurred in South Africa, until the Cape Mounted Police made short work of malefactors. It would be easy in Buenos Ayres and Santa Fe to equip a similar force, and give the hardy European settlers the same security that is enjoyed in the British Colonies.

All other matters are of much less importance than this. We may postpone the national finances; we could even get on without Congress for a year; we can dispense with any more docks or railways; but we cannot much longer endure the system of lawlessness that shakes society to its foundation.

If the Law is powerless to punish crime, if local authorities are at liberty to shoot people in their own houses, some sweeping reform is imminent. Nobody can be more convinced of this than Dr. Saenz Peña, who has for many years held a high judicial post, and who must naturally be zealous for the integrity and efficacy of the legal authorities. He has a great and useful mission before him if he undertakes to improve the administration of justice, which is the gauge of civilization and the only solid groundwork whereon to build up a nation.

LIME AND COAL-TAR.

Yesterday was a delightful day of summer, and the temperature was sufficiently high to remind us that the hot season is at hand. It is, therefore, expedient to begin at once a liberal use of lime and coal-tar all over the city. By this means we may prevent the propagation of Cholera or other epidemic, and no effort should be spared to that end.

The Municipality ought to lose no time in having "conventillos," police-barracks and public-buildings whitewashed inside and out. Inspectors for the several parishes should likewise be sent round to compel house owners and tenants to use lime freely, as well as coal tar. The most eminent physicians in England declare that Cholera is only another expression for filth, and that hygienic precautions are the only safeguard, whereas all quarantine regulations are utterly illusory.

Among the unclean Russian moujiks the present epidemic has made awful havoc. In Hamburg too, where a great portion of the citizens used water infected with sewage. But, although the terrible plague got a footing on the soil of G. Britain, at Gravesend, Lynn, Aberdeen and Liverpool, it could make no progress, because hygienic science barred the way. The English Board of Health says—"We cannot keep out Cholera, but we can prevent it from spreading."

The condition at the Boca is at present disgraceful, and is a serious menace to public health. If public opinion can find any expression among us it ought to compel the Municipality to supply filtered water daily to that district, and to take the other measures we have alluded to, as a precaution against sickness in the summer months.

PIRACY IN THE BOCA.

There is at present (says the Nacion) an organized and formidable gang of thieves in the Riachuelo, whose depredations are beginning to cause some alarm down there. Robberies on board the vessels moored there are quite frequent, and it would seem that the impunity with which the gang has performed its nightly feats has emboldened it to undertake robberies on a large scale. We are told by captains and other victims that the robbers are armed with rifles, revolvers and knives. They force their way into a vessel, overpower the crew and simply carry away what they like in small boats prepared for the purpose, and all this with an impunity perfectly appalling. On Saturday night one of these daring robberies was perpetrated by the gang in question, and the locus in quo was only a few yards from the Sub-Prefectura, the seat of the Boca port authorities. The steamer Palmira Criollo was moored to the wharf, and the crew consisted only of three men—the vessel not leaving for some time—one sleeping aft and the other two forward. Towards midnight on Saturday, the three sailors were roused from their slumbers by 15 men, armed with rifles, revolvers and knives, and tied and gagged before they had time to realize the situation. The thieves then went down into the hold and carried away the sails and other objects therein stored. Nothing more is known. The thieves are at large. This is not an isolated robbery Only the other day, several bales of wool from on board the steamers Nuevo Monterroso and Nuevo Robespierre, and the thieves abstract 150 coils of wire from the steamer Villa Colon.

About two months ago, the owner of the lighter Pascual Stiro was surprised one night by the same gang. He took up a revolver and fired, killing one of them. He is now in prison for having killed a man in self-defence! The lighters Bella Emilia, Levantina and Palma were also robbed. A better idea of the audacity of the thieves may be gathered from the following. Some time ago, Captain Stinca of the barque Africa, was robbed of all the sails in the vessel The next day one of the thieves called on the captain and offered to return the sails on the payment of $30. The captain paid the money and the sails were immediately returned. The Captain of the Joven Umberto accepted a similar offer to get back his sails.

Not long ago, Mr. Gardella's lighter was robbed of several bales of wool. The thieves to the number of 20 were caught and, on confessing, were sent to La Plata. In a week's time they were out again. And to crown all we may add that half the robberies committed are not spoken of, the victims being afraid to complain lest they should be murdered.

Col. Baibiene, Director of Customs, in view of these robberies, applied for a detachment of cavalry to keep watch in the Boca, but the application was not granted.

LATEST FROM RIO.

The British steamer Stanmore arrived here from Ilha Grande on the 17th, after a characteristic experience at Santos, to which port she was bound. We are informed that on arriving off the entrarce to the Santos river she was signalled to withdraw, and when she asked where she was to go, she was instructed to clear out and go where she pleased. The captain then signalled that he had only three tons of coal, but he was refused coal and peremptorily ordered away. He then put about, although it was stormy, and made his way to Ilha Grande, using everything available on board for the furnaces. At Ilha Grande he was asked why he came there, as his papers were all right. He then came on to Rio. There is a lot of sense in that kind of quarantine restriction.

Three important offers have lately been received by the directors of the Strangers' Hospital, one of £500 donation and £100 a year from an important English house, and the other two of $5,000 and $1,000 respectively from two well-known American companies.

There is a general impression, that the authorities have embargoed the Strangers' Hospital and that permission will not be given for its opening. This is a mistake. No embargo has been imposed, nor has any intimation been received that the authories will prevent the opening of the hospital. The association is duly authorized to open the hospital and is in possession of all the required licences. We are disinclined to believe that the authorities will do so unjust and arbitrary a thing as to revoke the licences.

The item published in the Jornal do Commercio of the 13th in regard to the alleged debasing of nickel coins created quite a sensation. On that day handbills were posted calling a meeting on Largo de S. Francisco de Paula. At this meeting severel speeches were made and then a mob proceeded to the Jornal office, much to the alarm of the merchants on Rue do Ouvidor, some of whom closed their doors and put up their shutters. Several persons called on Dr. Rodriguez, editor of the Jornal, to ask for proof of the truth of the state. ment. The acting minister of finance wrote to the press contradicting the report, as also did the director of the Mint. It was admitted that both the nickel and copper used is very impure, but the idea of debasing the coins was indignantly repudiated. The cause of the change in the appearance of the coins is not yet apparent.

The Diario Official. of the 17th inst., publishes the following:—"The budget committee of the Chamber of Deputies, expressing its opinion in favor of reducing the sum intended for the pay, extra pay and uniforms of the soldiers of the army, attributes to the minister of war the statement that it is not the Government's intention to increase during the coming financial year the present force of 18,700 men. The illustrious committee certainly labors under a mistake. No declaration in favor of reducing the number of soldiers was made by the minister of war. At his interview with the army and navy committee of the Chamber of Deputies and of the Senate, H. E. declared positively that he could not concur in the reduction of the strength of the army to less than 20,000 soldiers. He accepted, it is true, certain proposals made by the committee and suggested others, relating to buildings and other services, that can be postponed or have not been commenced; but he never acceded to the proposal to reduce the army to the number of soldiers proposed by the committee."—Rio News.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

September 3rd.

There is every reason to expect that the energetic measures taken by the hygienic authorities will check-mate the cholera that Russia has generated and Hamburg to her shame and selfishness has disseminated. One featnre about the plague, in Paris at least, is that it does not frighten people as in previous choleraic epidemics. This, I believe to be due to the people having at last comprehended that cholera and uncleanliness are next to synonymous. However, courage, moderate living, indifference, and a war 'a outrance' to filth, will be better preservatives than patent medicines and anti-choleraic mixtures even compounded from official prescriptions. The only fault to be found with the sanitary arrangements in Paris is not isolating the affected in temporary hospitals outside the city; crowding them into the ordinary wards is dangerous.

The trial of the Marquis de Morés, for his fatal duel with Captain Mayer, was unfortunately intensified in sensationalism by the Government not confining the indictment to simply ascertaining if the duel was fair, but to try the Marquis for his well-known anti-Jewish and advanced socialistic views. This reopened the religious and class wars that every well-wisher desired to see permanently closed, and that the Pope himself recently counselled the cessation. The serious phase of the antagonism is, how far has the unchaining of passions penetrated the army? Two very abominable witnesses at the trial, an Israelite and a Gentile that few would like to stable their horses with, contributed not a little to envenom the quarrel. M. Drumont, who collected 28,000 frs. for the distressed and diseased Russians, has had that sum returned by the Russian Embassy. M. Drumont is the Peter the Hermit of the anti semitic crusade, M. de Morés is his right hand man. It appears that the Czar, on looking over the subscription list, took umbrage at some of the signatures: one subscriber, "For the conversion of the Czar," gave two sous; another 80 sous "for the return of the Czar to the Pope." These harmless jokes are common to all charitable subscriptions in France. The better way would be to turn one's blind eye to them.

Russia claims to have found a guarantee against Asiatic cholera by cultivating mustard near towns and around dwellings. The Koch baccilli apparently do not like the pungency of that plant. More practical is the adoption by the Muscovite Government of the feudal system for the collection of taxes —the acceptation of payment in kind. Grain is taken and stored for the use of the army in the new granaries or elevators; it will serve also to rescue if necessary, civilians from famine. The authorities by this plan avoid the commission paid to the tax gatherer and suits for arrears of imposts, while the taxed do not suffer from having to turn their produce first into cash, and receive as settlement roubles of a fluctuating value.

The colliery strike at Carmeaux, near St. Etienne, is deplorable, and due, despite volumes of explanations, to simple want of tact:—

"Evil is wrought from want of thought,
As well as want of heart."

These coal mines are the most important in the South of France—the chief coal supply of the country is in the North, and employs nearly 3,000 hands. Politics and Socialism have done their fatal work. A collier, named Calvignac, was elected Mayor of the Commune and to the higher dignity of councillor of arrondissement. His opponent was the Medical attendant of the mines, who had for backers the company's interest. This was the first phase of the men's victory. Calvignac was not a better nor worse workman than any of the 3,000; he became in a sense the village politician; he is not the model of robust health; he was frequently absent, but except on one occasion, when being refused leave, he took it; instead of being fined, as the regulations prescribed, the Manager dismissed him, but truth requires that it be known, his superiors subjected Calvignac to a series of petty persecutions, which in the end fired his colleagues not so much to strike as to revolt. No one denies the right of the company to rule its employés, but in conformity with accepted regulations and unwritten laws. Instead of taking the elevation of Calvignac good humoredly, aye, kindly, they viewed it tragically, stuck as it were pins in him. They made no allowance for Calvignac's peacock feathers. The strikers attacked the Manager's office, forced him—and so demonstrated their silliness, to sign his resignation. The company then stood by their chief, while the Republican journalists and Socialist deputies sided with Calvignac as being oppressed by bloated capitalists, who in his person violated, mocked and defied the verdict of universal suffrage.

Roubaix is one of the chief manufacturing towns in the north of France; it is a little Leeds and Manchester. Its population is 103,000. At the late Municipal elections, the laboring classes stood shoulder to shoulder, and returned their own members by a vast majority, municipal councillors, and the latter selected the mayor. It is the first pure socialistic municipality that has relatively moderate views in France The mayor sells newspapers and keeps a small beer shop, serving the clients himself; his colleagues also vend beer. They have had to adopt this business, because as officials, they could not execute the city's affairs and gain their livelihood at the factory. They proposed to vote themselves an indemnity of 5 frs. a day on which to live; as the law does not allow municipal councillors to be paid; the vote was annulled by the Prefect. The municipal councillors of Paris vote themselves 17 frs. per day indemnity, which is illegal, and yet M. Carnot himself fiats the sum, since he approves of the municipal budget. What does the Roubaix municipality mean to do with the power it has won? To at once vote the labor ameliorations their predecessors were dallying with since a score of years? They accept the principle that no citizen shall starve; that the unemployed and willing to work must be fed and sheltered, and that a fellow man has another role in life than to enrich employers and then to succumb. Respecting the municipal schools, the law decrees that education is to be free and compulsory; but it omits to regulate how children without food and clothing are to learn the three R's. The council will supply the omission, it will establish a canteen in every school where those who can must pay for a meal, and those who cannot receive it gratuitously, just as they do their education. If they are shoeless, they shall be shod, if clotheless, clad. All octroi or barrier dues on food shall be abolished; public baths and washing houses shall be free, health and cleanliness being imperative corollaries of full stomachs and furnished heads. There will be maternities for women and their little strangers; asylums for the aged and incapacitated; night refuges for the passing indigents; free hospital and medical cares and conciliation courts, where legal advice will be gratuitous for litigants. If that be the extent of the socialistic plan, I think society need not go into hysterics over the programme.

Sannois is a healthy suburb of Paris, but its vineyards, fruit and kitchen gardens, from May till October form the 'happy hunting ground" for midnight thieves and daylight pick-nickers, who, in admiring the beauties of nature, think it no harm to help themselves to the products of the locality. The thieves are so audacious that they fill sacks with vegetables and fruits, deposit them in waiting hand carts and roll to the Paris markets. The police are so few as to be unable to guard an area of nine square miles. The inhabitants have enrolled themselves as special constables, patrol the fields, etc., and have thus cleared the region of marauders.

The wheat harvest is excellent, the grain is superb in quality and in quantity fair. The straw is short; rye is satisfactory. These are the main cereals. But France not the less will have to import 36 million bushels of wheat to cover the deficiency of the harvest. Only once in ten years the country produces sufficient grain to support the population. The duty in operation on imported cereals is 50 fcs. per ton and for flours 80 fcs. The average yield of wheat in France is about 12 bushels; it could be raised to 30 without extraordinary effort, and to 50 bushels by adopting "high farming." The oat crop is a failure, and the beet yield will prove disappointing. But the potatoe crop is magnificent, no disease; tubers large, floury, and plentiful, whether for table consumption or distillation. Note, France intends to embark largely in the industrial cultivation of the potatoe for the manufacture of whisky; 16 to 25 tons of tubers are not uncommon in Germany, and the latter owes her "boom" of prosperity within the last 15 years, to beet sugar and tatie alcohols.

M. Zola and a few other "litterateurs" have visited Lourdes, where if they have not prayed, they have not scoffed. They were received with due attention by the Pilgrimage Committees, and no difficulties placed in their way to examine what they pleased and to visit where they desired. They testify to the simplicity and sincere faith of the pilgrims, who are absorbed only in their religious duties. M. Zola believes that the palsied can recover from their paralysis, in many cases due to the intense fervency of the sufferers' devotion, but he is not convinced of the other class of cures. His visit has done much, and his book will do more, to make the pilgrimages be respected and impartially and fairly judged; they interfere with no social institution and abhor politics. It is the contagion of devotion that reigns.

Not very much importance is attached to the National fete of the 22 September —which will take the form of an historical cavalcade to honor the official declaration of the birth day of the First Republic. The archbishop of Paris celebrated the annual memorial service for the victims of the massacres of the 2 September 1792. Old party hates are ebbing out; the feeling is general that those reactionists of light and leading, who have battered and badgered the Republic since twenty-two years, ought to retire into the shade and expire in forgetfulness; but it is rather imprudent to demand that the republicans who fought for and won the victory of the Third Republic also perform the "happy dispatch."

Excepting the increasing flood of crime and inability to master it, there are no home "points noirs"; 69,000 recidivists in 1875 and 106,000 in 1892! The reformation of these habitual criminals is impossible.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The travelling correspondent of our esteemed and invaluable La Plata contemporary the Dia, is at present quartered in Tandil, from which delightful spot he writes a breezy letter on the principal attractions of that town. He unhesitatingly advises travellers to put up at the Hotel de la Piedra Movediza, or the Rocking Stone Hotel, which is kept by Mr. Dhers, the best known man in Tandil. The travelling correspondent went to see the famous rocking stone, which we shall not stop to describe, as everyone knows or ought to know, all about it. The stone is covered with names carved by the crowds of sightseers who flock to gaze on the phenomenon. Some of the names, like their possessors, are obliterated; others are almost illegible. The Gothic letters of the STANDARD are still as fresh as when they were carved, and we observe that, with pardonable jealousy, the t.c. set to and carved the name Dia on the moving rock. Turning to other matters, which are not quite as firm as a rock, we find that the local branch of the Provincial Bank has begun since the 1st to discount, not so freely as in the palmy days of boom, but sufficiently to communicate some life to trade and industry. The deposits sum up $620,653. Two years ago they were close upon two millions. The branch is managed by Mr. Manuel P. Alais, who is held in high esteem. The price of land is rising daily. Sites have recently been sold in the town at $7.55 the square vara. In the district, agriculture is progressing and encroaching on the pastoral industry. The quarries are in full swing and give plenty of work, the stone being in demand for paving purposes. The district covers an area of 1960 square miles, the population being 15,000, including 6000 in the town. The town comprises 90 blocks, and the Municipal revenue amounts to 70,000 dollars. As the inhabitants have no fixed ideas on the subject of politics, there are no rows, and the town is always very quiet, people contenting themselves in making themselves agreeable to travellers.

ENGLISH LITERARY SOCIETY.

Mr. Editor,

We are again reminded that an election for a new committee is at hand and think it time some new blood was introduced in place of the old "fogies" and the young ones who become "fossilised" immediately after election; and I wish to call the attention of the young men of the Society to wake up from their apathy and seeming want of interest in the affairs of the Society, take the management into their own hands, from a "clique" who do no good, and elect a working committee who will do and act for the benefit of the Society in many needed ways.

The "old lady committee" of 1891 could have saved at least 500 to a 1.000 dollars for this present year on one particular line through taking a little trouble and precaution in certain expenditure; but no, they were asleep or wil fully unmindful of the Society's interests, and samme matter is likely to occur again this year unless one particular member of the present committee moves quick enough in the matter.

The present committee meets regularly but, as for business done, I as a member of the Society, fail to find any good result; goodness knows their meetings are long enough, wind expended in the shape of speeches that would not disgrace any modern tea party.

What is required are practical and business like men as committee, not figure heads.

Several members are hoping that steps be taken to secure some kind of better accommodation than the present premises, which are far from adequate.

This "Sleeping Committee" still keeps true to its name and takes no steps to call a meeting as to the advisability of augmenting the building fund in order to secure a Hall of their own. No, they sleep and are likely to do so, and the Society is all the worse for it.

If a member broaches the subject of a Billiard table for the society, one or two supposed influential goody-goody members immediately put up their hands in holy horror and exclaim "The Society is going to perdition, let us save it by opposing this motion" and so, in deference to the feelings of one or two the matter is allowed to be dropped. On the same plea we have no sports, no recreation of any kind in connection with the Society, unless we take into account the pleasant excursions got up the Rev. Mr. Spilsbury. We have no attractions in the shape of cricket, boating, foot-ball or Lawn tennis clubs, simply because there is no interest felt in the Society by young men, as these sports and pastimes keep them together. Some older members connect Billiards with "bar" etc, although I am not altogether in favour of the latter, yet on the other hand, billiards are most acceptable to pass a pleasant hour.

There is a certain "behind the times faction" that opposes anything new brought forward for the good of the Society and have for their motto "as it was in the beginning is now and ever shall be," to the detriment of the Society's advancement. I can point out Societies in London, such as the "Birbeck" and "Polytechnic," which are successful in the extreme simply because there are so many different attractions and branches of such Societies, and would be members are attracted by their own particular "hobby," and the various enjoyments combined in a whole form irresistible and very successful.

I am certain our Society is far from flourishing as it should be. Young men do not care to join the committee, solely on account of the "dog in the manger" system; and it is high time that the subject was ventilated and remedied.

Yours truly,
A young member.

AMATEUR PERFORMANCES.

Buenos Ayres, October 3rd

Mr. Editor,—

Can you find room for a mild protest from a long-suffering paterfamilias against a new form of taxation with which we are threatened, and which, although, I admit, is not obligatory, we find it very hard to elude? I refer to the high prices charged for admission to amateur dramatic performances.

I don't wish to include such performances as "Caste," given at a town theatre regardless of expense; but I have in mind the theatricals announced for the 11th inst. at Lomas. I find on enquiry there is nothing less than 5 dollar stalls, and, while admitting that the programme is very attractive, still I think the price is a little too much for one who has six children, which means tickets for eight, as, of course, ma doesn't mean to be "left." I was politely informed by the affable principle of the Academy there would be a rehearsal on the Saturday evening preceding the 11th, to which children and servants would be admitted at the price of one dollar each. This I consider was an unkind cut, adding insult to injury, because, though not of the upper-crust, still I don't wish to be considered of the "basse cour."

I trust you will find room for this wail of a

Poor Lomasite.

REVOLUTION! BUT NOT EVOLUTION.

Mr. Editor,

We have been treatened for some time past with a revolution, but now we are menaced with something worse, and that in the hospitable columns of your paper.

A scientific correspondent, "Anti-protoplasm," proposes to open up our minds "in a series of letters" on the missing link subject, which was lately discussed in the Literary Society.

Now I should like to draw his attention to the danger, not to mention the inhumanity of such a proceeding. We are on the brink of the hot season, with its attendant relaxation of the nerves and possibility of epidemics; the political horizon is still clouded, and business is dull. This, therefore, is hardly the time to begin such a controversy.

Anti-cataplasm.

E. Note.—We fully agree with the above sentiment.

EVOLUTION.

Mr. Editor—

Permit me to repeat what I stated in the Literary Society on the occasion of the debate on my lecture on "Evolution and Darwinism," viz. that I shall not reply to any correspondence in the newspapers on the subject. My lecture was not a public one, but delivered to the English Literary Society in the room of the Society and subject to the rules of the Society, and if "Anti-protoplasm" wishes to deliver his soul on evolution or any other subject in the press, he is at liberty to do so, but not directly or indirectly to challenge me to reply or to consider his letters as "his contribution to a debate" which was duly held and closed.

I do not and shall not reply further, either during or after "Anti-protoplasm's" course of letters, for three reasons:—

1st. Because I said distinctly before the discussion commenced that I would not engage in a newspaper correspondence.

2nd. Because I do not wish, even with such good company as "Anti-protoplasm," to make myself a nuisance in the paper by discussing a subject which is not of universal interest and of which the general public would tire long before it was exhausted, or the editor would apply the "closure" whenever it suited him.

3rd. In the interest of the Literary Society, which it would handicap very much in obtaining lectures, if every gentleman who gives a lecture is to stand not only one, two or three nights debate on the subject, but also to land himself into an interminable newspaper war at the end of it.

But I may say to "Anti-protoplasm" that if he and his friends wish to debate further on the subject, I am at his and their disposal at the English Literary Society whenever called upon and that, in order to secure what your correspondent desires, an all round debate, in which all sides of the subject may be considered, I will move the suspension of the standing orders, so that any rules of the Society which may interfere with a complete debate may be temporarily inoperative. Your correspondent cannot complain of any wish on my part to shirk consideration of the subject in a proper place and manner, and if he wants to go on for three months, as he says, I can hold out to the end; and if the hall of the Literary Society is not large enough to hold all those interested in the debate, in adjournment can quietly be arranged to a larger place

Yours faithfully
A. Stuart Pennington.

OCEAN VOYAGES.

October 3.

Mr. Editor,

In answer to "Commander's" note of a few days ago, I would state that the best Transatlantic record for a sailing ship is sixteen days eleven hours and twelve minutes, made by the cutter "Psyche" from Liverpool to Marblehead, August 1884.

Clipper.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

Mr. J. Andreu has filed a note to Government stating that he desists from his idea of leasing the Andine Railway. Mr. Andreu says that if his project had been accepted a year ago, he would have handed the Government at least $100,000, instead of which the Government has had to pay $400,000 for repairs.

The plans of the proposed station at Oliva have been submitted to Government by the manager of the Central Argentine.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

No sign of the expected storm yesterday, and the wail of woe from the parched camp was louder than ever. Those who believe in the moon and the man who lives in it say and swear that it will rain in c. d. p. fashion to-morrow at 3.32 a.m., as the Queen of Night will wax to her fullest then.

So tremendous was the crowd in Calle Piedad yesterday gazing at the largest photograph in the world, which that Prince of advertising tailors, Jaybrown-thetailortermscash, has hung on his outer walls, that at one time it was feared that the artillery would have to be called out to clear the street. The photograph is another triumph for that rapidly rising Danish artist, Mr. Lundstrum, whose superb photographs are spreading like lightning in fashionable circles. This last "aviso" hit of Brown's is one of his best.

Talking of kerosene. We had a letter yesterday from "Mr. Kerosene" reminding us of the fact that over 30 years ago the people of the Interior had never seen kerosene lamps till he introduced them. See W. P.'s Rosario Letters to the STANDARD in the sixties "Mr. Kerosene" is Mr. Fredricksson, the well-known Rosario merchant.

The British Minister in Chile, Mr. Charles Thomas Maude, died in Santiago on Sunday night last. He was very popular both with the English residents, the Corp Diplomatique and the Government. We take the following from the Foreign Office List:—"Maude, Charles Thomas was nominated an attache April 7, 1876. Was appointed to Berlin Dec 11, 1876. Was promoted to be a 3rd Secretary, June 28, 1878. Passed an examination in public law, March 6, 1879. Was transferred to Pekin, Feb 14, 1880, and was promoted to be second Secretary June 16, 1880. Was transferred to Berlin, Nov. 11, 1884, and to Vienna May 12, 1885, where he acted as Chargé d' Affaires from July 31 to Aug. 5, 1889, whence he proceeded to Paris, from which he passed to Chile."

Those who think that Caste is to be performed again to-night are wrong. If it be given again, it will be duly announced

The Almanaque Colombiana, on sale at Calle Cuyo 563, is a beautiful work of art for office walls. Ruland and Co. of Calle Cuyo are the lithographers, and the chromos are beautiful. Merchants have only to glance from their chair at this map almanack to find gold prices, railways, banks etc. etc.

Messrs. Rea and MacCracken ask us to tell the English public on their part, that their Chicago Excursion Trip is distinct from that in the Conde de Villano. Theirs teamer is a special one, guaranteed first class in every way.

A constant reader who has just returned from Rio Grande, says that awful anarchy reigns in that part of Brazil and thinks must soon come to a head, for better or worse. Murder and robbery stalk over the land and there is neither protection nor punishment for crime. A Colonel murdered in the street and took $5,000 gold from a young man who was on his way to this country. The victim's father, a wealthy estanciero, offered $5,000 stg. to whoever should bring him the Colonel's head. This is a terrible state of things.

Mrs. Bliffers (looking up from the paper)—"Of all things! A couple who have lived together for sixty years have applied for a divorce." Mr. Bliffers—"My, my! Sixty years! I don't wonder."

The new band of the Bomberos in Rosario is entirely composed of boys, and although they have been only one month in training by Professor Spreeafico (Capital name for a band-master) their playing in the Plaza calls forth general praise. The lads seem to enjoy their work.

A letter from Paris says:—"There are 30,000 Jews in Paris, mostly French by birth or naturalization. They are hard-working, law-abiding, and money-making people; they fill some of the distinguished positions in the government offices, in the legislature, the army, literature and science. They are models in the discharge of their religious duties, and exemplary in their domestic lives. As a community, they make more money than the Gentiles—which appears to be the gravamen of their crime, while such prosperity ought to prove they are not in Moscow. The masses in France hate the Jews for their wealth, won by means open to Christians—and not neglected. The Jews are staunch Republicans."

The tramway horses of Paris are now eating Argentine "alfalfa" and are getting as nice and plump on it as the ladies of the land where the fodder grew. A Rosario house has a contract to supply the Paris Tramway Company with 10,000 tons of "alfalfa," and 5,000 tons have already been sent.

The B. O. Government has decided not to send its valuable museum of Indigenous Relics to Chicago, afraid some of them might be lost. Good fear for it. History records the total disappearance of the STANDARD Museum which we sent to the Cordoba Exhibition. Not even the first sample of coal taken from the mine (now unworked) on Paseo Colon was saved from the wreck. We believe Mr. Casey's meat market stands over the old workings of that memorable coal mine.

Some scoundrels have stolen the beautiful little model of a vessel so long exhibited in the window of our friends and supporters, Messrs Galli Bros, in Calle San Martin. It was valued at $400.

We are requested to mention that the Choral Union Concert announced for the 10th inst. is postponed for a few days.

Last evening's telegrams from 'Montevideo contain the unpleasant announcement that Engineer Duclout, who directs the Martin Garcia Channel Dredging Works, and Com. Bayley, of the Uruguayan gunboat Rivera, are at daggers drawn. The Commander ordered the Engineer to suspend the works, on the ground that he was trespassing in Uruguayan waters. The Engineer seemingly obeyed, but resumed work as soon as the Rivera was out of sight. It is said that the Uruguayan Government is determined to assume an energetic attitude. However, the whole question has been diplomatically arranged here. So our Montevidean friends need not be alarmed.

We find in our exchanges from home that the full name of the prisoner in Glasgow who recently confessed to complicity in the murders of Lord Leitrim and Lord Mountmorris in Ireland several years ago is James Anderson.

We want to know, for the benefit of a subscriber who is as "passionately fond of music" as even deaf people profess to be in this highly musical country, if there is anyone living in fashionable Belgrano who is able and willing to teach the guitar, for a consideration?

Weather fine in London again yesterday. Eight minutes.

The "Forget me not" verse sent to us terday is too short and sweet for publication; so we'll put it in lavender and preserve it as a keepsake. Any young bachelor subscriber on the matrimonial path is welcome to a peep at it.

The latest news about the Locust is that the wheat crop in Humbert Colony is g. o. n., gone; rain or no rain.

The Loan joke in Montevideo is played out. The Hebrew philanthropists in Paris will have nothing to do with it, and it is time to start another financial lark. No doubt, President Herrera will be equal to the emergency.

The Wise Men did not get up to the quorum point on Monday, but amused themselves by listening to a vigorous tirade against the Lord Mayor from Alderman Loureyro, who more than hinted that it would be right good fun to impeach and depose his lordship. It would not.

Now, all ye good people who believe that gambling and charity should always go hand in hand, prepare your shin-plasters for the first of the lotteries which Congress has allowed the distinguished Damas de Beneficencia to hold. It will come off on 20th inst. Big prize $20,000. Tickets $5, or $1 for a fifth.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes once received the smallest fee ever paid a lecturer. He was promised five dollars, but was paid only two dollars and a half, and, in explanation of the reduction, the comment was thrown in that "the lecture warn't as funny as folke expected."

The right good Zoos held their yea rly general meeting on Monday night, regardless of the thrilling revolutionary rumours that were flying about in the glorious moonlight. The American Church Lecture Room was crammed with humane ladies and gentlemen who listened to an eloquent speech from their worthy President, Dr. Albarracin, who declared with justifiable pride that his soul was braced up by the fact that the Society was now eleven years old and triumphant from Buenos the Central Argentine Railway; on the conclusion of that work he settled down and bought large properties in Santa Fe. In 1875 he joined an American named Rogers and built the second section of the Andine Railway, from Rio Cuarto to Villa Mercedes. In later years he established a mill at Carcarañá. He put up the first wheat elevator in Rosario and built his flour mill on the Carcarañá, and also started a dairy farm. Many years ago he was one of the largest holders of Provincial Cedulas and of Central Argentine Railway shares; latterly he had been in declining health and not long ago arrived back from Europe; he was an active, enterprising man, highly esteemed and respected by all who knew him.

Three lots of new wool have arrived in the market; one of these lots, 8000 kilos mestizo Lincoln from the South, was sold at the high figure of 10 dollars per 10 kilos. Messrs. Staut and Co., the buyers. The business has caused a rise in the wool market, as the price is considered exceptionally high. The other two lots of new wool stood over from yesterday and probably will be sold today or to-morrow. 30,000 kilos of old wool have been sold in the deposits, at from 6 to 7¼. Owing to the hot weather coming on so soon, it is probable we shall have much new wool in market next week.

A serious question has arisen about the sale of the Model Dairy Farm. The syndic proposed an auctioneer who offered to sell the assets of the company for half per cent. commission. The Judge refused to approve the nomination and named Mr. Simon Peter as auctioneer, who charges the full commission; the syndic protests against this as causing a loss to the shareholders, and the question goes up on appeal.

A hundred days' sail from New York to Buenos Ayres is a long voyage. The barque Giosue has just entered with 15,000 boxes of kerosene to Messrs. Gandolfi Mossandi and Co., who it is supposed gave up the ship as lost months ago.

Eight thousand bags of maize sold at the Mercado Central at $6.25, 10,000 bags in the Once at $6.20 to 6.40, 6,500 bags of wheat at from $8.50 to 9.60, 5,180 bags of maize shipped per steamer Horrox to Antwerp by Messrs. Lorthiois and Freres. A large business of 1,500 tons of maize deliverable in the rivers, concluded this evening. Business in maize is very brisk and the supply seems inexhaustible. People wonder where on earth the maize comes from, as we all remember this time 12 month President Pellegrini left the Government House for Santa Fé to fight the locusts. Messrs. Marconi and Co. report having sold in these days fully 8,000 tons of maize; the last sale of 2,000 tons was deliverable in San Nicolas at $6.25. Messrs. Tornquist and Co., the buyers. The millers in Santa Fe are very much alarmed about the prospects of the new wheat crop, owing to the locusts; and they are buying all the wheat they can in Rosario at $9.40 in the railway waggon.

The complete failure in Paris of the Oriental loan is now announced. It seems to have been a sham from beginning to end; and the money spent by the Government in telegrams is a serious item, which the parties who introduced the business should be called upon to pay.

The La Plata Mortgage Bank has another list of auctions, chiefly estancias and all for the 12th and 13th instant. We shall make out a list of these estancias for the benefit of our readers: but it is a work of supererogation, as even at the present low price of cedulas and bonos the lands can't stand the amount.

The following sales of property are reported:—

A fine quinta in Moron, Calle Santa Adelaida, for $18,000.

An old corner house Sarandi and Alsina, 20 by 33, for $20,000.

House number 759 to 763 Calle 25 de Mayo, 8 by 20, for $40,000, buyer Mr. Machain.

House Calle Alsina No. 1140, 8½ by 33, for $16,000.

House No. 261 Calle Zeballos, 10 by 30 for $15,200, buyer Mr. Mœtzel.

Site Calle Zeballos between Alsina and Moreno, 20 by 30 for $21,000, say $35 the square vara, Mr. Bernasconi buyer.

The fine old patriarchal house Calle Alsina 1644, known in former years as the Guido quinta, with nice garden and front, large roomy house, in former years occupied by Mr. Paats, sold for $78,000; buyer the present occupier Dr. Lahitte.

House No. 341 Calle Entre Rios, 12 by 14, for $14,000.

Site Calle Alberti between Venezuela and Mexico 28½ by 43½, sold for $10 the sq. vara.

Messrs. Gowland and Co. sold the half manzana, Calle Lima, Estados Unidos and Buen Orden, belonging to the Estrada testamentaria, from 29,15 to 32,80$ the sq. vara. The site gave $95,000. Buyers Messrs. Bustamante, Silva and Cartone.

The death of Mr. James Dowse, who was for so many years cashier of the old Gas Company, was announced on 'Change and caused widespread regret, as deceased was universally esteemed.

Messrs Bravo Barros and Company sold by auction to-day the estancia on the Rio Negro called Sauce Blanco, owned by General Winter, 3 leagues of land with one league front on the river for 4½ per hectare, say 10,000 per league or $30,000 for the whole place. The land adjoins the estancia Lambare and faces Messrs Kincaid's. Mr. William Morgan of Tuyu and Quilmes buyer.

Business at the second hour was not important, though there was a slight stop in gold consequent on the large amounts now expected to be thrown on the market for produce purposes. The ounce closed at 53.40 sellers. In stocks Catalinas closed very shaky at 9.50 both for cash and end of month. Cedulas were quiet and perhaps a shade firmer.

The report of the directors of the Primitiva Company was given round yesterday. This company was formed for the purpose of supplying the market with bags and sacks, and seems to be very ably and economically managed; it is working on a capital of $8970 shares of $100 fully paid and 19,515 certificates on which 60% is paid which gives a total paid up capital of 2,067,900 dollars. On this capital the net profits for the year amount to 589,945.90 dollars and the directors propose to distribute these earnings as follows:—

2% to the President..	11,416.29
4% to the Directors...	22,832.58
1% to the Sindico....	5,708.14
10% to the Rave. Fund	57,081.44
14% on 8970 shares....	125,580.00
8.40% on 19,515 certificates.....	163,926.00
Premium to employees	10,000.00
Provision fund.....	190,000.00
Carried to next year's account.....	3,401.45
Total.....	589,945.90

1st—That the board be authorised to arrange with shareholders who have defaulted, giving them shares fully paid up for the balance in their favor.

2nd—Giving the holders of certificates 60% paid on their paying a further 10% fully paid up shares at par. The directors propose this as they consider their present capital with the reserves, which amount to 397,814.23 dollars, as ample capital for the working of the company. Three new directors to replace Messrs Garbens, Bernhard, and Marcone, and two suplentes to replace Edward Ackerley and John B. Repetto, also Remigio Tomé, Sindico, and Juan Benvenuto, suplente have to be elected. The following is the present board:—

President, Arturo L. Agrelo; Vice President, Gustavo Garbens; Treasurer, B. Bernhard; Secretary, J. L. Brown; Vocal, Antonio Marcone and A. Villar.

The balance-sheet of this prosperous company merits close attention, since it shows that with honest upright men in its administration and prudence in its management, spite of the great crisis, the depression of trade, high taxes and other difficulties, the company flourishes.

HORSFORDS PHOSPHATIC BAKING POWDER

BARON LIEBIG, the world-renowned chemist said, "I have though a great series of experiments, satisfied myself of the purity and excellence of your preparation The bread has no acid, is easily digested, and of the best taste. Aside from the conveniences this invaluable idea of yours has provided, I consider this invention as one of the most useful gifts which science has made to mankind! It is certain that the nutritive value of the flour will be increased 10 per cent by your invention, and the result is precisely the same as if the fertility of our wheatfields had been increased by that amount.

What a wonderful result is this!"

A LOS HACENDADOS Y á nuestra clientela

Animados por el favor y la confianza que los hacendados y el publico en general dispensan a esta casa, obligandole mas vasta esfera de accion y ocasando corresponder a sus exigencias, nos es grato comunicarle que desde la fecha hemos incorporado a nuestra casa de remates y comisiones las consignaciones de frutos del pais y ecreslos que recibiremos a comision para vender en los mercados Central de Frutos, Constitucion y Once en las mismas condiciones que los demas consignatarios.

Semanalmente remitiremos a nuestros comitentes una revista de precios corrientes con fieles apreciaciones sobre el estado de la plaza.

Cuando los criadores o nuestros clientes lo pidan venderemos sus frutos en remate previo anuncio, lo que ofrecera la indiscutible ventaja de dar nombre y fama a los establecimientos productores, cuyos frutos con rarisimas excepciones se venden actualmente sin saberse en nuestra plaza y menos en Europa el establecimiento que los ha producido.

La venta en remate ofrece por otra parte en nuestro mercado mayores facilidades que en los del Havre, Londres y Amberes, porque aqui los compradores pueden apreciar mejor todo lo que compran, examinando el articulo sin enfardelar.

La distancia a que se encuentran nuestros mercados uno del otro y la circunstancia de hacerse los negocios simultaneamente en los tres, tiene el inconveniente de distribuir los compradores alejando la competencia, y al remate subsana esta dificultad, porque como se anuncia previamente, permite a los interesados congregarse a una hora fija en el mercado donde ha de efectuarse la venta, estimulando el exito de las operaciones la competencia de los licitadores.

Para vender frutos en remate, s
